

THEY'RE NOT BRITISH...

THEY ARE

Recent Government action shows insanity of nationality laws

BROTHERS Geoffrey and David Ramsey (pictured at the top of this page) are of pure British stock. Their parents were British. Their grandparents were British. As the photo indicates, they are as good Anglo-Saxon types as could be found.

But, according to a recent newspaper report, they have been placed in danger of deportation from Britain. Their crime? Their family happened to be on colonial service when they were born, as a result of which they first saw the light of day in Barbados.

The Home Office says that Geoffrey (23) and David (22) have no right to United Kingdom citizenship or residence because, as well as the fact that they were born abroad, so also were their parents and grandparents.

Their grandmother is Mrs. Peggy Howard, who was born in Ceylon of a tea-planting British family. Her husband fought for Britain in the war and died in a Japanese prisoner of war camp.

The Howards had three children, one daughter of which, Penelope, went to Barbados at the age of 22 and married a sugar planter, Ronald Ramsey, who was born in Barbados of white British parents.

GOOD RECORDS

The two sons of the marriage lived in Barbados, with frequent visits 'home' to Britain until January 1976, when they were sent to Bloxham School, near Banbury, Oxfordshire, to finish their education. They both gained considerable academic success and Geoffrey was made captain of his house.

But according to the Home Office they lost their right to British citizenship under the terms of the Barbados Independence Act of 1966.

So there we have it! These young men have all their roots in this country. They have showed above-average abilities at school and are in every way useful and valuable citizens. But because of the idiocy of our nationality laws they have come under the threat of expulsion from this country.

A NONSENSE

Contrast this with the position of millions of West Indians, Asians and other racial aliens, some of whom have long criminal records and many of whom feel no ties of loyalty to this country whatever. These aliens are considered 'British' because of the pure technicality of their being born here or having been issued with British passports to come here. The whole thing is a nonsense.

And a scandal.

The latest news that we have on going to press is that our Home Secretary, himself a Lithuanian Jew by origin, has consented under considerable pressure to allow the two brothers to remain in this country.

THE ENEMY WITHIN

THE UNEARTHING of "moles" by British Leyland at their Cowley plant has provided incontrovertible proof that political subversives in our midst are busily engaged in the destruction of British society. This revelation has been something of an embarrassment to the Establishment, which for years has chosen to ignore the treasonable activities of those on the far left. And so the politicians, trade union leaders, media hacks and others feign surprise that such things should be going on.

Most Britons are well aware of the existence of what Mr. Enoch Powell once described as "the enemy within". But our so-called leaders seem far less concerned about the internal danger which threatens our very existence than they are about the needs of the "Third World", the EEC, and the hordes of coloured people now resident in our country.

For years Nationalists have been warning our dunder-headed politicians about the threat; but we have either been ignored or accused of being subversives ourselves! And so the Reds have been going from strength to strength, albeit surreptitiously. It is high time that the Government snapped out of its torpor and ruthlessly weeded out subversives and left-wing agitators, root and branch, from all sectors of our society upon which our national well-being and security depends.

Failure so to act may have tragic consequences for our country. Even so, we regret that our advice is unlikely to be taken because Parliament is itself infiltrated with subversives and aliens whose aim is nothing less than the total subjugation of Great Britain to the tyranny of internationalism.

NOT EARNED

THE MPs' decision to award themselves a pay increase so soon after the General Election clearly showed us where their real interests lie. With self-seekers like these running our affairs it is no wonder our parliamentary system of government is now held in utter contempt.

The politicians know that most Britons have short memories; that is why they increased their pay at the very beginning of a new Parliament. They hope that by the time the next General Election arrives their selfishness will be forgotten.

If productivity is the yardstick used to justify pay rises, no group of people is less entitled to a rise than our MPs. They have consistently failed to deliver the goods; and it is, in any case, sheer hypocrisy for them to vote themselves a rise whilst urging the rest of us to exercise "pay restraint".

Let us hope that come the next election our people will vote for men and women prepared to put the interests of the British people before their own.

Black crime

IS THERE A COVER-UP?

LOOTING IN BRIXTON 1981
These crimes played down

THE 1982 figures for crimes committed by Blacks in London, published by the Home Office last March, caused a mixture of indignation, surprise and scepticism among many Londoners. Indignation, because aliens and their offspring are permitted to impose a reign of terror on the streets of our capital city; surprise, because the Home Office, despite its soft spot for "ethnic minorities", allowed the figures to be published at all; and scepticism, because the figures suggest that Blacks are responsible for far less violent crime than is commonly supposed.

The figures, which were compiled by New Scotland Yard, show that out of 19,258 cases of robbery and violent theft, 10,960 were committed by Blacks, 5,262 by Whites, 2,502 by persons unknown, and 534 by what are referred to as "mixed gangs".

If we exclude the unknowns and mixed gangs, these figures tell us that Blacks were responsible for rather more than twice as many violent crimes as Whites (67.6 per cent compared with 32.4 per cent). Although the Black share of these crimes is extremely high when we remember that according to official estimates the coloured population of London is only around 13 per cent (a figure that is widely disputed) it is very low compared with previously published figures which indicate that Blacks are responsible for somewhere between 80 to 85 per cent of all violent crimes.

NOT CONVINCING

The suggestion that Blacks are responsible for anything less than 80 per cent of violent crimes committed in London will hardly convince Londoners unless they have been completely brainwashed by the media or fallen for the propaganda emanating from the thriving race relations industry. Londoners have only to use the evidence of their own eyes to know the truth about what is going on.

So why is it that in the 1982 figures the number of violent crimes attributed to Blacks is so absurdly low? Could it be that the Home Office has used statistical trickery in order to bamboozle the public into thinking that things are not quite so bad as they imagine? And the suspicion that the figures have indeed, trying to withhold from Londoners the truth about Black Crime is a crime in itself. It is time, high time, that we Londoners were told the truth.

BLACK BEAST GETS LIFE

NUGENT

RUDOLPH NUGENT, a Black who for a year terrorised women in North London, has been given six life sentences for four rapes and two attempted rapes.

Nugent, who preyed on women in the vicinity of Essex Road tube station in Islington, was also given 25 years for arson and seven robberies. He made a habit of threatening to kill the babies of young mothers unless they gave him money, and then he raped them.

Passing sentence, Judge Tudor Price told Nugent: "I shall recommend to the Secretary of State that you are not released until age or infirmity renders you harmless."

In the opinion of British Nationalist, the sentence given to Nugent was too lenient. We say that Nugent, whose behaviour is worse than that of any animal, deserves to be hanged forthwith instead of being comfortably housed in prison at public expense until he is in all probability released in a few years' time.

Ever since the present authority came to power it has been clear that the interests of true Londoners are of no consequence to it whatsoever; the GLC's main purpose seems to be to promote the obscene policies of the lunatic left. ATTEMPTED WHITEWASH

From all this it is clear that, as I suspected, the Home Office has fudged the figures in an attempt to whitewash the criminality of London's unwanted Blacks. Once again, official figures are being manipulated for purely political purposes. This is not good enough —

WHAT HAS BRITAIN GOT OUT OF EUROPE?

10 years on, RONALD RICKCORD examines the balance sheet

ONE of the more squalid aspects about the struggle for the leadership of the Labour Party is the haste with which some of the contenders are prepared to ditch the Party's election manifesto pledge to take Britain out of the EEC. It is worth reminding ourselves of the words actually used in the manifesto: "... British withdrawal from the Community is the right policy - to be completed well within the lifetime of the parliament. That is our commitment."

Labour's debacle last June, it's most unlikely that the promise to take Britain out of the Market had anything to do with it. In any case, the British electorate is not so naive as to believe that Labour seriously intended taking us out. They've made that promise before.

But it is disturbing that the men now clamouring to become top dog in the Labour Party are so ready to reverse the policies of a few short weeks ago in the hope that by so doing they may make themselves its leading personalities have long and honourable records as opponents of British membership. It can be safely predicted that however electorally popular the EEC may become as a result of the machinations of the one-worlders and the vast sums of public money they have at their disposal for pro-Market propaganda, BNP leaders will never dishonour their commitment to Britain's complete withdrawal from the debilitating and destructive Continental imbroglio. Voters can be sure that whatever others may do, the BNP will stick to its principles.

DISASTER

Each day that Britain remains a member of the Community brings fresh evidence of the folly of having joined it, and all the propaganda cannot disguise the fact that membership has been an unmitigated disaster. In the ten years that Britain has been a member of the EEC it has become a millstone round the necks of the British people. By its crazy policies it has succeeded only in maximising the profits of the few at the expense of the many; but that was precisely the intentions of its founders. So far, its sole beneficiaries have been a handful of multinational companies, the grossly inefficient Continental farmers, the East European and Russian recipients of over-produced foodstuffs obtained at knockdown prices, the overpaid and underworked Eurocrats, the speculators, and, of course, those who want to enslave mankind to the dictatorship of "World Government".

The harmful effect that the EEC is having on the British economy was recently admitted by the new Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Jopling, who said that the serious cash flow problem caused by the EEC's farm support arrangements was mainly responsible for forcing the Chancellor, Mr. Lawson, to impose the additional spending cuts of £500 million last month.

The Community's common agricultural policy (CAP) is just one of many Euro-absurdities that borders on insanity. The "fowl mountain" is now so large that there is insufficient cold storage to accommodate it; so birds are being sold in Russia and the Middle East with subsidies up to three times larger than those available to British consumers. Truly it can be said that the EEC's policy of intervention-buying provides cheap food for Russians at the expense of the people of Western Europe.

The Community's policy on fishing is in tatters too, and it seems that only British fishermen obey the rules. Despite quotas to prevent British waters being denuded of fish, Continental fishermen plunder those waters to such an extent that some species, particularly herring, are in danger of extinction.

CALAMITOUS POLICY

Another calamitous EEC policy concerns the production of steel. Recently the EEC Commission ordered Britain to cut steel production by an additional 500,000 tonnes, despite the fact that on orders from the EEC British steel production has already been reduced by 4.3 million tonnes at a cost of 89,400 jobs since 1980.

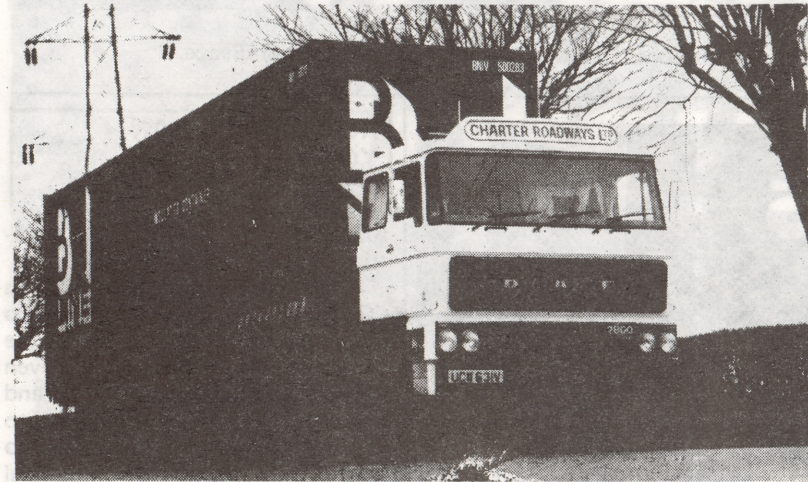

But for Britain quite the worst development to emerge from Brussels in recent months is the Community's refusal to repay the rebate owed to us unless we agree to stepping up our annual contribution. Before the election Mrs. Thatcher spoke brave words about reclaiming £800 million from the

BRITISH STEEL WORKS
Our steel industry has been deliberately run down on EEC orders

EEC. At the Stuttgart summit conference she meekly agreed to accept £450 million, and now Euro-MPs are threatening to reduce this to £240 million - conditional upon Britain's acceptance of massively increased annual contributions towards the Community budget. This increase would have to be funded by raising VAT.

Meanwhile, as Britain is pillaged left, right and centre by grasping Continentals, the EEC finance ministers have agreed to make an unprecedented loan of £2.4 million to France at an advantageously low rate of interest. The French will be given up to eight years to repay the loan. With transactions like these taking place it's no wonder that the EEC is having such a detrimental effect on the British economy. How much longer can Britain afford to remain a member?

Euro-truck brings in Euro-goods

It seems that the Labour hopefuls now think that the Party's opposition to the Market might have been the cause of its downfall at the polls! While it is true that the massive pro-Market advertising during recent years may have succeeded in hoodwinking some of our less intelligent compatriots, there can be little doubt that the EEC is extremely unpopular with the vast majority of Britons. Whatever may have caused and their Party more popular with the public. Do these people have any principles at all? It seems that for them the acquisition of power is all important.

COMMITTED TO WITHDRAWAL

The British National Party is firmly committed to Britain's withdrawal from the EEC, and many of

TALKING POINTS

by FRONTIERSMAN

WHITE MUGGER

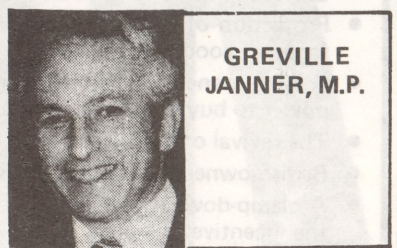

British Nationalist is often accused by our opponents of highlighting violent crimes committed by Blacks but playing down similar crimes committed by Whites. To those who make such accusations I can only say that violent crimes like mugging, raping, baby-slashing and other equally horrific crimes were almost unknown in this country before the influx of hordes of immigrants. Nor can it be denied that Blacks are responsible for an overwhelmingly disproportionate share of these crimes. In these circumstances, and in view of the fact that black malefactors often receive the mildest of punishments when they are caught, it is not surprising that some White youths of the less intelligent sort embark on similar careers to those so successfully pursued by black criminals.

Recently one 19-year-old white youth who admitted robbing a tourist at knifepoint turned out to be the son of Mr. Alf Dubs, Labour MP for Battersea South. What sentence did the young Dubs receive? A jail sentence or a stiff fine? Neither - instead he was given a "deferred" five-month jail sentence which he won't have to serve providing that he behaves himself during a period of "rehabilitation". Judge James Mendl told him: "One always has sympathy for the children of parents who do well because of the pressure they do suffer." So there we have it: if a mugger comes from a poor family we must be sympathetic because he has been "deprived"; if he comes from a well-to-do family we must be sympathetic because the "high achievement" of his parents is likely to cause him to suffer; and if he is black we must sympathise with him because he is "disadvantaged". With such attitudes prevailing on the Bench is it any wonder that many Britons dread taking a walk on the streets of our towns and cities?

GAS CHAMBERS GALORE!

Most people are used to toxic gases emanating from the debating chamber of the House of Commons, but nothing quite matches the miasma that arose from that place during the recent debate about the deaths of British holidaymakers on the Algarve, allegedly from gas poisoning. During the debate Mr. Greville Janner, Labour MP for Leicester West and President of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, with scant regard for the truth or for the feelings of the relatives of those who have died, claimed that "several hundred" Britons may have died from gas poisoning in Portugal. Since Mr.

GREVILLE JANNER, M.P.

Janner is evidently obsessed with thoughts of mass gasings, I'm surprised that his estimate is so low. Could it be that he really meant to say that several hundred thousand Britons have thus been done to death by the perfidious Portuguese? And how long, I wonder, before the figure will have escalated to a million, or even six million?

BE PREPARED

The Boy Scout Movement has always taken every reasonable precaution to prevent queers infiltrating into its ranks,

AIR CHIEF MARSHALL WILLIAMSON
Will "get rid of" queers and rightly so. But recently the ILEA, supported by Mr. Ken Livingstone and some of his more irresponsible colleagues on the GLC, has attempted to pressurise the Movement into allowing "gays" to join it by threatening to withhold annual grants given to a number of London Scout Troops. To qualify for the grants Scout Leaders were required to complete satisfactorily questionnaires aimed at discovering whether they discriminated against young people on the grounds of their "sexual orientation". For once, sanity prevailed at County Hall and the Queer Lobby was overruled, so that the Scouts got the grants in time to pay for their summer camps. But it is disgraceful that the Boy Scout Movement should be subjected to this sort of pressure by the ILEA and the GLC, and in so foul a cause. The Scout Movement has done infinitely more for the education and welfare of boys than the ILEA has ever done or is ever likely to do. Organisations that find themselves forced to accept queers into their ranks would do well to heed the advice of the Chief of the Air Staff, Air Chief Marshal Sir Keith Williamson. Asked about the possibility of Queen's Regulations being amended to allow homosexuals into the Royal Air Force, Sir Keith said that even if homosexuals were allowed to enlist, they would be "got rid of administratively". Meanwhile, with regimes such as that currently ensconced in County Hall, it seems that Boy Scouts will have to "Be Prepared" more than ever before.

CATASTROPHE TO COME

The other day whilst travelling on the London Underground I noticed that I was the only white person in the carriage. Now, I'm well aware that London, like many British cities, has become a multi-racial dustbin, but this, I felt, really was a bit too much! In despair I took refuge behind my newspaper in an attempt to blot the alien faces from my sight and to take my mind off depressing thoughts about the coloured invasion of our country. By chance I began reading an article on the recent race riots in Sri Lanka. It occurred to me that if people who are racially so closely related as Sinhalese and Tamils are unable to live in amity in an island where the population is only 550 per square mile, there is little hope of avoiding bloodshed in Britain between the native British population and the hordes of Negroes, Asians, Chinese, Vietnamese and the countless other racial groups who have been allowed to settle here in recent years. Events in Sri Lanka serve only to underline the impossibility of multiracialism; they also give warning of the horrendous catastrophe that is in store for us if we don't soon clear these people and their offspring from our country. The very thought of it sent a shudder down my spine. How eagerly I got out of that carriage at the next station!

THIS IS BRITAIN

THROUGHOUT Britain today, temples are springing up to cater for the various religious beliefs of the hordes of immigrants whom the politicians have criminally allowed to settle here. These unsightly alien buildings are not confined to our larger cities, but can be found in some of our smaller towns, and many more are in the process of being erected. In some cases redundant Christian churches have been converted into temples and shrines for the pagan rituals of immigrants. Our photograph shows the director of the World Muslim League, Dr. Hashim Mahdi, laying the foundations of a Mosque and Islamic Centre in Walsall.

YOUR LETTERS

Sir,-For sheer wetness it would be difficult to beat the Government's action in allowing into Ulster the 80 Americans who belong to the pro-IRA group known as "Noraid".

The statement by Mr. Prior's sidekick, Mr. Nicholas Scott, suggesting that few other countries would have allowed such a visit, while perfectly true, indicates the abject defeatism contained in the Government's thinking. Yes, few other countries would have been so stupid as to provide hospitality to their sworn enemies.

No one admires weakness of this sort - except, of course, the IRA thugs. It will simply encourage them to continue their murderous campaign and persuade misguided Americans to go on financing them.

By appointing sopping wets like Prior and Scott to the Northern Ireland Office, Mrs. Thatcher has made it clear that she has no serious intention of defeating the IRA.

J. REDMOND, Belfast.

Sir,-I'm aged 87 and two years ago my husband died. Our only son was killed in the war. In 1931 my husband bought our little terrace house in Plumstead and I've lived here ever since. Twenty-odd years ago immigrants began living in our street, and now almost the whole street has been taken over by them. It broke my poor husband's heart. We were so proud of our street and our house. Now I've got immigrants living on both sides of me, so the value of my house has gone right down. So I can't afford to move to another house. The social workers tell me I should move into an old people's home. But I'm fit, so why should I? Can you help me sir?

ANNIE,
London SE18.

Annie asked us not to publish her surname - Editor.

Sir,-Not content with publishing photos of half dressed women in order to boost its sales, The Sun has now taken to writing fictitious stories about the widow of a soldier who was posthumously awarded the VC for his bravery in the Falklands. Such rags as The Sun should be banned and its editorial staff should be copped in irons. They have no concern for decency, the truth, or for the feelings of those who have been bereaved like the brave soldier's widow. All they are concerned with is the Hebrew principle of making a quick profit and to hell with the consequences. Roll on the day when the British Press comes under the control of British people! Thank God for British Nationalist. You at least print the truth.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL NORTHERN MEETINGS

New recordings now available

BNP Recordings are pleased to announce two new cassettes which will be available from early in the new year. These are:-

RALLY '82

This recording features speeches made at the British National Party rally in London on October 16th 1982, the theme of which was 'Unite and fight for Britain's future!'

On side 1 of the cassette are recordings of the speeches by Charles Parker and Ray Hill; on side 2 is the closing speech by John Tyndall.

TYNDALL SPEAKS (II)

This cassette features the 4th and 5th of a series of specially recorded talks by John Tyndall, made in a studio employing Hi-Fi equipment. The talks are:-

Side 1: The case for nationalism. In this talk the BNP leader demolishes the most frequently used arguments employed in opposition to the nationalist idea and urges that that idea is now essential to Britain's survival.

Side 2: Tragedy of the 20th Century. In this recording Tyndall speaks of World War II and its ruinous consequences for Britain and the West.

Both these talks provide ideal instructional material for educating young people in nationalism.

We also remind everyone of two other recordings still available which have proved very popular. These are:-

VOICES OF NATIONALISM

Side 1 of this cassette features recordings of parts of the speeches made at the Nationalist Unity rally in London on September 5th 1981. Hear John Tyndall, Ray Hill, Kenneth McKilliam, Len Bearsford Walker and others.

Side 2 consists of the third of the series of specially recorded talks by John Tyndall entitled 'The coming British revolution'. In this talk Tyndall exposes the fraud of the political system masquerading as 'democracy' and outlines vital changes needed to raise the level of British political leadership.

TYNDALL SPEAKS (I)

The first of two recorded talks of a series by the BNP leader. These are:-

Side 1: Our Anglo-Saxon heritage. This talk is about the great world-wide heritage of the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic peoples and calls for their unity.

Side 2: Britain's economic crisis. Tyndall talks about the breakdown of the British economy over a long period and calls for a new economic policy based on economic nationalism.

THE BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY held two highly successful meetings in the North West of England last month. The meetings, addressed by party Leader John Tyndall in a quick North-Western tour, were organised mainly for the purpose of meeting people who had enquired about the party through the General Election.

The first meeting, at Liverpool on August 19th, attracted over 40 people, about half of which were newcomers. Mr. Tyndall spoke for about 45 minutes and then answered questions.

The second meeting, on the following evening, took place in Manchester. About 35 were present of whom 15 were newcomers. The format was the same.

New members have already been enrolled as a result of these meetings.

Mr. Tyndall will be speaking in Glasgow on September 24th and Charles Parker will be addressing a meeting in Birmingham on September 9th.

BNP man defies Eurocrats

MICHAEL EASTER, the British National Party's regional organiser in Kent and the Party's candidate for Bradford North in last June's General Election, recently let officials of the European Commission know his opinion of the Common Market in no uncertain terms - he locked them out of his factory!

Mr. Easter, who is managing director of Diaflex Ltd., a Tonbridge company that manufactures industrial chemicals, was informed by the Commission that it wanted details of the company's pricing policy.

This information was not required because Mr. Easter's company was involved in any malpractices, but because another British company, Engineering & Chemical Supplies Ltd., had complained that a Dutch-owned company, AKZO Chemie UK Ltd., was breaking the rules of fair competition by its pricing policy for marketing benzoyl peroxide.

The Commission decided to scrutinise the records of Mr. Easter's company so that his prices could be compared with those of AKZO, and it sent him a letter informing him that EEC officials would visit the company in order to obtain the information they required.

Mr. Easter ignored the letter. He decided that he would not voluntarily give the EEC officials access to his premises on the grounds that he would "never dream of disclosing information to foreigners." An EEC spokesman, Mr. Michael Berendt, then pointed out that under "Common Market law" the Commission was entitled to investigate companies to obtain information.

Later, the EEC commissars, accompanied by the police, arrived at the factory; but Mr. Easter, aware of their impending visit, had already locked the gates. They went away, leaving behind a document informing Mr. Easter of their intention to investigate his company and of his obligation to co-operate.

The commissars then returned with a High Court injunction signed by a British judge ordering Mr. Easter to answer their questions and to give them access to the company's files. They then proceeded to ransack Mr. Easter's office and even had the cheek to try and make copies of the files using his own photocopier - until he ordered them to stop!

The commissars who visited Mr. Easter were named Joshua and Rawes. They were accompanied by a Mr. David Brummell of the Office of Fair Trading, whose presence was authorised by a Mr. L. Lightman. Readers will have noticed that all these gentlemen have decidedly un-British names.

SPIRITED DEFENCE

Mr. Easter is to be congratulated for his spirited defence of the right of Britons to go about their business without interference from foreigners. This case is extremely disturbing because it gives visible proof that

But they still face a wait of at least 5 years before they are granted British nationality. In the meantime they are not eligible to be issued British passports.

The fact is that this problem should never have arisen in the first place. British nationality is something that should be determined by ethnic considerations, i.e. race. Any people of British ancestry, whether born here or not, should be allowed to live in this country without fear of harassment.

And people of races with nothing in common with our own, biologically, mentally and culturally, should be made to go.

HOW QUEER CAN YOU GET?

tude towards the Communist countries - the list is endless.

Now the GLC has shown in its "Queers' Charter" that it is so desperate to convert us all to the perverted way of life that it is even turning its attention to young and innocent children in order to confuse their tender minds and to glorify these disgusting homosexual and lesbian practices. Not only are the commissars at County Hall sowing the seeds of anarchy and disruption in our schools, they are now apparently attempting to defy the workings of nature itself.

In their election manifesto the Tories said that one of their first tasks would be to dismantle the metropolitan authorities, including the GLC; but already Mrs. Thatcher is hesitating and once again we are faced with the prospect of another broken election promise. The Government must quickly wake up to the fact that if it doesn't soon boot Livingstone and Co. out of County Hall, the minds of countless children will be irrevocably warped by the evil poison being spread by the perverts and their supporters.

WHAT WE STAND FOR

- The return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- A government that will put British interests first.
- British withdrawal from the European Common Market.
- Closer links with the White Commonwealth.
- Protection of British industry by the exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from Britain.
- A sane financial system which will give to the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The revival of British farming.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- A clamp-down on social security spongers and the restoration of the incentive to work.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British support of the Whites in South Africa.
- An end to financial aid to black dictatorships.
- The strengthening of Britain's defences.
